-Any unexpected accidents or events like plane crash, bus accident, theft/robbery, fall and injury, insect bites, rock fall, thunderstorm/lightning, individual health problem or natural disasters like landslide, flooding, avalanche and political disturbance in the country are not in my (Ongyel Sherpa/US Sherpa International/Nima Thundu Sherpa/Nima & Neema Treks) control. Trekking in the high Himalaya of Nepal is a challenging sport which requires a good physical health and good stamina. It is long hiking in steep up hill and down hill trails which can be on uneven terrain. The weather can be cold, windy and hot that can cause altitude sickness, hypothermia, dehydration, slips/falls and other trekking related sickness. In case of individual's serious sickness or injury that requires an emergency service or helicopter rescue, you will be liable to pay all the expenses because our package doesn't cover these expenses. This is why we recommend you to purchase a travel insurance which covers these additional costs. However, I and my agent in Nepal will make a very strong effort to minimize all these risks.

-It is your responsibility to have all the proper immunizations, vaccinations and be physically and mentally ready prior to the trip. This might include consulting your physician, having a proper check up, getting medication, paperwork and knowing about the travel destination.

-I _____ here by state that I understand and am aware with the dangers, hazards and risks to trip in Nepal as mentioned above. I accept that these hazards and risks may result in personal injuries or even death. I accept and agree all the risks involved in this trip and my participation in this activity is purely voluntary and will not hold Ongyel Sherpa (US Sherpa International) and Nima Thundu Sherpa (Nima & Neema Treks) responsible/liable for such incidents mentioned above.
